

In a Dark Dark Wood

A Folk Tale

In a dark dark wood,
there was a dark dark path.

And up that dark dark path,
there was a dark dark house.

And in that dark dark house,
there was a dark dark stair.

And up that dark dark stair,
there was a dark dark room.

And in that dark dark room,
there was a dark dark cupboard.

And in that dark dark cupboard,
there was a dark dark box.

And in that dark dark box,
there was a....GHOST.

In a Dark Dark Wood

A Folk Tale

In a dark dark wood,
there was a dark dark path.

And up that dark dark path,
there was a dark dark house.

And in that dark dark house,
there was a dark dark stair.

And up that dark dark stair,
there was a dark dark room.

And in that dark dark room,
there was a dark dark cupboard.

And in that dark dark cupboard,
there was a dark dark box.

And in that dark dark box,
there was a...GHOST.

The Doorbell Rang Again

based on
The Doorbell Rang

by Pat Hutchins

Mike and Bill are brothers.

Mike is married to Sue.

“I’ve made some brownies for you to eat while you watch TV,” said Sue.

“Good,” said Mike and Bill. “We’re starving.”

“Share them between yourselves,” said Sue. “I made plenty.”

“That’s six each,” said Mike and Bill.

“They smell as good as Mom’s brownies,” said Mike.

“No one bakes brownies like your mom,” said Sue as the doorbell rang.

It was Henry and Tom from work.

“Come in,” said Sue. “You can share the brownies.”

“That’s three for each,” said Mike and Bill.

“They smell as good as your mom’s brownies,” said Henry.

“And look as good,” said Tom.

“No one bakes brownies like Mike and Bill’s mom,” said Sue as the doorbell rang.

It was Joe and Hank from next door.

“Come in,” said Sue. “You can share the brownies.”

“That’s two each,” said Mike and Bill.

“They smell as good as your mom’s brownies,” said Joe.

“And look as good,” said Hank.

“No one bakes brownies like Mike and Bill’s mom,” said Sue as the doorbell rang.

How many brownies? ___

How many people? ___

12 brownies divided by 2 people equals 6 brownies for each.

___ = $6/12$

How many brownies? 12

How many people? 4

12 brownies divided by 4 people equals 3 brownies for each.

$$1/4 = 3/12$$

How many brownies? 12

How many people? 6

12 brownies divided by 6 people equals 2 brownies each.

$$1/6 = 2/12$$

It was Pat and Dan with their four kids.

“Come in,” said Sue. “You can share the brownies..”

“That’s one each,” said Mike and Bill.

“They smell as good as your mom’s brownies,” said Pat.

“And look as good,” said Dan.

“No one makes brownies like Mike and Bill’s mom,” said Sue as the doorbell rang....and rang.

“Oh dear,” said Sue as everyone stared at the brownies on their plates.

“Perhaps you’d better eat them before we open the door.”

“We’ll wait,” said Mike.

It was Mike and Bill’s Mom with a tray of brownies.

“How nice to have so many people to share them with, “ said Mom. “It’s a good thing I made a lot.”

How many brownies? 12

How many people? 12 (6 + 2 + 4)

12 brownies divided by 12 people equals 1 brownie each.

Each has 1/12.

Job Shadowing

“This girl I was going around with was supposed to get to work at 11 o’clock, but she didn’t show up until about 11:15. Her name was Jean. The boss told her that this was the third time she’d been late. He was upset with her but let me hang around anyway. He told me to take a seat where I could watch her take orders from the customers and go back to the kitchen area. I stayed out of everyone’s way. It got real busy about 11:30. She was going from one table to another and back to the kitchen and back out to the tables. She finally had a few minutes to talk to me. She said that she’s been a waitress long enough to be good at remembering who ordered what but that she hates to carry heavy trays and still remembers when she dropped one. She’s worked there for 5 years and said the money was pretty good. I didn’t see her smile much while she was working.”

Job Shadowing Sentences

Bill clocked in at 7:50 a.m. He was early.

Bill worked outside for an hour.

The hardest thing he did was move heavy bags.

Bill likes his job a lot.

